A close-up, front-facing view of the heavily worn orange body of a Doosan forklift. The paint is chipped and peeling, revealing a dark, possibly rusted metal underneath. The word "DOOSAN" is printed in large, white, bold, sans-serif capital letters on a black rectangular panel that serves as a grille. Above this panel, the top of the forklift's mast and various hydraulic components are visible. To the right, a red pallet jack is partially visible, with a white sticker that reads "LOT IN SALE". The ground is a light-colored gravel or asphalt surface.
